

What a great dessert or snack. These Candy coated cookie clusters are a great cookie to add to your wonderful cookie patter for the holidays.

Candy Coated Cookie Clusters

- 1 1/2 lbs white candy coating or plain white almond bark
- 2 cups miniature marshmallows
- 2 cups Captain Crunch cereal
- 2 cups Rice Krispies cereal
- 1 cup peanuts

Melt the candy coating or almond bark in the microwave in a glass container (about 5 minutes on medium power). In another bowl, mix cereals, marshmallows and nuts together. Pour melted candy over cereal mixture and stir well making sure all pieces are coated. Drop as clusters on wax paper and cool quickly by placing in refrigerator. Once cooled, store them in an airtight container. NOTE –

For a fun variation during the holidays, use Christmas Crunch Berry cereal instead of Captain Crunch because it has the red and green ‘berries’ in the cereal.

Brown sugar is available in light and dark forms. Dark brown sugar has more molasses and therefore a more intense flavor than light brown sugar.
